Dear Mary,

Thanks for Storey bio. But it omits something of which I am certain from somewhere, his OSS service. Of course, it is always possible that my recollection is in error, but somewhere, when he was quoted on the rumor that Oswald may have been an agent, he said that what was reported was consistent with his experience from his OSS days. And that I cannot now recall. I have it, but can't find it.

Little new here. Lil has been making an excellent recovery with her knee. Yesterday it bothered him a bit more than it has. We both have a hunch it is from too vigorous use in the pool the day before.

Hope Buck is getting along well. We look forward to your coming in August.

Best,
